NOEL WHITE NAMED NEW PRESIDENT OF LAKE CO. FIREMEN

Five Hundred Attend Annual Convention at Libertyville Monday

ANTIOCH CITED FOR BEST EQUIPMENT

Noel White, Fox Lake village clerk, and secretary of the Firemen's Association of that community, was elected president of the Lake County Firemen's Association at the annual convention held Monday in Libertyville. Fred Schneider, of Libertyville, was named vice president; John Horan, Antioch, was re-elected secretary; and Joseph Dada of Gurnee, treasurer.

Five hundred firefighters, representing Lake county towns and departments from three surrounding towns were in attendance.

Several thousand spectators applauded as the fire companies from the various communities displayed how they would co-operate should Libertyville or any other city or village be endangered by flames.

Crowds also watched intently as the firemen engaged in competitive tests of skill.

Lake Villa's fire department, one of the volunteer outfits whose members regard fire fighting as a diversion as well as a community service, won the loving cup awarded by the Libertyville Lion's Club to the department obtaining the largest number of points in the competition.

Next year's meet will be held in Lake Villa.

Miss Minto Returns From African Mission

Has Year's Furlough—Will Visit Brother Here

(Special to The Antioch News) Boston, Mass., May 31. Fresh from life among the Ovimbundus of West Africa, Miss Una Jean Minto, Illinois woman, has just reached Boston for a year's furlough, and after visiting the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions under whose auspices she works, will continue to Antioch, Ill., her home, and that of her brother, David H. Minto of Maple Hills Farm.

Miss Minto brings back with her samples of native basketry in original designs as well as a fund of knowledge about the customs, talents, superstitions, and history of the Ovimbundus whose language she speaks fluently, as well as Portuguese, the official tongue. She has been teaching in Currie Institute, a character-building school for boys where they are trained not only in academic subjects but practical industrial courses and agriculture.

Born in Antioch, Miss Minto was graduated from Belmont College, class of 1904 and before going to Africa first in 1920 taught school at Dundee and in Grayslake, Ill. She taught in the Girls' School at Ballund, West Africa, for a time, an institution for African children fresh from the kraals, many of whom walked 75 miles to secure a simple education. Miss Minto reports the Ovimbundus as gracious people with distinct talents of their own. "The coming generation are reformed and teachable," she declares, "and while superstition is rife and while practices continue in many instances the standards of life and living places of leadership among their people."

Miss Minto was for a time Director of Religious Education in the Evanston Illinois Congregational Church whose representative she is in Chicago, and is also supported by the Congregational and Christian Churches throughout the State of Illinois.

FLORIST DIES FOLLOWING CRASH AT GRASS LAKE

Dies in Waukegan Hospital—No Witness to the Accident

Frank Borozicka, 54 years old, owner of the Winnetka Flower Shop, died late Saturday afternoon in St. Theresa hospital, Waukegan, following injuries received in an automobile accident which occurred a short time previous at the junction of the old the new Grass Lake roads.

The coroner's jury held the death was from an automobile accident with the cause of the accident being unknown. No one could be found who saw the accident.

The florist had delivered shrubs on an estate on the north side of the lake earlier in the day, and had got a phone call from a resident on the south side of the lake to call at his place and take an order. It was while enroute to this place that the fatal accident occurred at the intersection of the old and new roads. Marks in the road indicated that Borozicka either lost control of his car or was forced from the road. The car ran across a ditch, broke off a telephone pole and turned over.

The man was found alive about six o'clock in the evening, very shortly after the accident happened. It is thought. Dr. H. F. Beebe was called to the scene of the accident, and Borozicka who was found to be most seriously injured was taken at once to the hospital where he died an hour later.

The body was taken to his home in Winnetka.

Drouth And Frost Cut Lake County Crops 50 Per Cent

Long continued dry weather and killing frosts have cut Lake county crops more than half, according to Farm Adviser H. C. Gilkerson, of Grayslake.

The same hay crop this year will be but a fraction of the normal yield, which last year was 41,000 tons, and indications are that the grain crop will be but 40 per cent of that of last year, according to Gilkerson. This cutting of yields is due directly to the drouth. There was less than an inch of rainfall throughout the county during the month of May, and May is the month that provides the rains for germinating seeds and starting the plants to maturity so that ripening comes in less rainy months.

Frost Kills
Added to the woes of the farmer and truck grower were the killing frosts of last Thursday and Friday nights which wiped out the bulk of early potatoes and other garden crops. Plants not actually killed by the frost were so weakened that a serious shortage in all such crops is expected. Some of the acreage may be replanted.

The corn crop is yet to be made. If there are soaking rains within a week it may be a normal crop, according to Gilkerson, and this will be a blessing to the farmer as he depends to a large extent on his corn for silage for cattle.

By comparison with other rural areas there is a note of cheer for the Lake county farmers. Here their income is almost entirely from their dairy herds and a 40 per cent crop coupled with their reserve store of feed which is dwindling will ease some of them through next winter although the majority of them will be forced to buy on a constantly rising market to feed their stock. Their loss will not be as acute as the Dakotas and Montana where the grain crop is wiped out, as Nebraska where it is predicted wheat will yield but five bushels to the acre instead of 15 to 20 bushels in normal years, and to downstate Illinois where the farmer must look to corn and grain for his income, and stock sales secondarily.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stearns spent Tuesday in Milwaukee.

SPEAKER DENOUNCES GREED OF WAR IN MEMORIAL DAY TALK

Antioch Honors Soldier Dead in Program Here Yesterday

Denouncing wars as gestures of greed, Richard Widmark of Lake Forest College, speaker at the Memorial Day services held here yesterday, told his audience, among who were veterans of three conflicts, that practically all of the wars in the world's history had been inspired by commercialism.

"War is the destructive instrument of hate and greed, while peace among nations is conducive to prosperity, happiness and contentment of peoples," Widmark said.

Three Essentials In Recipe For Success, Pastor Tells Graduates

Rev. J. E. Charles Is Baccalaureate Speaker Sunday Night

Enthusiasm for a worthy purpose, courage, and a sincere conception of religion are the three important essentials for those who would achieve success, Rev. J. E. Charles, pastor of St. Ignatius church, told Antioch high school seniors at the Baccalaureate services held Sunday night in the high school auditorium.

Taking for his subject, "Last Seen Climbing," Rev. Charles' address was allegorical, likening life to a mountain climb. Describing an attempted conquest of Mt. Everest, the speaker told of the determination, enthusiasm and courage of the two most venture-time climbers who having gone farthither were "last seen climbing." In the application of the story Rev. Charles admonished the graduates to observe the essential things of life.

S. E. Pollock had charge of the service which opened with the processional played by Mr. Von Holst. The following were on the program: Singing of "America the Beautiful"; Prayer by Rev. L. V. Sitter; music by high school chorus; address by Rev. Charles; music by chorus, and benediction by Rev. Sitter.

Former Antioch Teacher Gets $10,000 Verdict For Death of Husband

Mrs. Lillian Sheehan Gets Damages in Kenosha Court

Mrs. Lillian Schroeder Sheehan, former Antioch high school teacher, now living in Chicago, has been awarded $10,000 damages by a jury in the Kenosha municipal court for the death of her husband, James Frederick Sheehan, who died following an auto accident on highway 173, near Antioch on October 13, 1932.

Mrs. Sheehan sued Ervin Lewis, manager of the Hathaway Baking corporation branch of Kenosha and the driver of the car which collided with Sheehan's machine.

After hearing more than two days of testimony in the Kenosha court a jury required little more than an hour to return a verdict allowing the $10,000 damages. The verdict placed the entire blame for the crash on Lewis and gave the full amount that was asked in the original suit. In addition the verdict added $475 for the cost of the Sheehan car which was completely wrecked in the crash.

The Sheehan couple had been married only four months when the fatal accident occurred, it was testified in the damage suit trial.

The couple was married at St. Mary's Catholic church in Lake Forest and they were residing at Grass Lake at the time of the accident.

Attorneys for the defendant, Lewis, immediately filed objections to the verdict before Municipal Judge Calvin Stewart and a motion on the verdict is to be heard by Stewart on June 2.

SPEED IS THE DANGER

The world's record for throwing the 16-pound shot, one of the regular events at all track and field meets, is 53 feet.

The amount of energy possessed by an average-sized automobile traveling at 60 miles an hour would be sufficient to throw that shot 52,800 feet—nearly ten miles.

To use another illustration, a car traveling at 60 has the same capacity for inflicting damage as if it were driven off a twelve-story building.

Those facts, brought out in a recent report of a prominent insurance company, give some idea of the potential menace of speed on the highway. During recent years the death and injury rate per accident has been rising—and the increase was especially marked in 1933. The chance of a person being seriously hurt or killed in an accident is substantially greater now than it would have been five or ten years ago in a similar accident. The reason can be expressed in one word: Speed.

Today's cars have better brakes, better steering, better lights and stronger bodies than those of the past. By all engineering standards, they are safer. What has happened is that the public has exaggerated the increased safety factors and actually turned these improvements into dangers.

Watch your speed—adapt it to local conditions at all times—and you'll have taken a long step toward becoming a safe driver.

GOVERNMENT BEHIND HOME-BUILDING

The next major activity of government will be an attempt to stimulate heavy industries—which normally provide the bulk of employment, were hit hardest by depression, and have been the most lethargic in recovering from it. And the first step in doing that will be to unloose capital for home-building and repairing, through Federal guarantees of mortgages. Mr. Roosevelt has sent a special message to Congress to expedite such legislation.

Experts estimate that it is possible to unloose credit to the tune of $1,500,000,000 or more in this manner. That money would go to painters, carpenters, masons, plumbers, contractors. It would buy cement, steel, paint, lumber, roofing, electric fixtures. It would pass through a hundred great industries, creating jobs and opportunities as it went. It doesn't take much imagination to visualize the extent of its influence in pulling businesses of all kinds out of the doldrums.

Here's a thought for the wise property-owner to start considering right now: If building is greatly accelerated, prices for everything involved are going to rise. They're going to leave depression levels behind and return to the normal average—that, in fact, is one of the cardinal aims at this time. Those who can afford to repair and build now have an opportunity that may never be repeated in their lifetimes.

BEGINNING AT THE GRASS ROOTS

"Real recovery," says the Moorhead, Minnesota, Daily News, "must begin at the grass roots."

That opinion is shared by a sizeable army of economists. In spite of the population drift from farm-to-city that began after the war, the bulk of the population is still dependent on agriculture for its livelihood. And the farm market is the greatest potential field for sales of manufactured products of all types.

The government, as a matter of fact, has sought to begin at the grass roots in pursuing its recovery program. Its efforts have certainly not been completely successful—nor have they been utterly a failure. Farm prices have risen—but not so rapidly as have prices for manufactured products. And where prices for industrial products are above the pre-war level, farm prices are substantially under it.

In the work of agricultural rehabilitation, the farmer himself must intensify his efforts in his own behalf. He can best do that through strong, faithfully-backed cooperatives. One of the most difficult problems faced by government in aiding the farmer was lack of organization—and lack of a common viewpoint and purpose. The cooperative move has made fine progress—but, if the farmer is wise, the progress of the future will make that of the past look small indeed.

Someone remarked to Will Rogers that Webster spoke perfect English. To which Will responded: "Well, so could I, if I wrote my own dictionary."

THE GREAT DISTINCTION

Ernest Haycox, successful young western author, has a lot of hard common sense along with the imagination that enables him to turn out entertaining fiction for national magazines. Here is a thought from an article by him in Spokes, weekly publication of the Portland, Oregon, Rotary Club:

"There is one highly important distinction between private business and public business. Private business is under the constant necessity of remaining solvent. Public business may magnificently disregard profit and loss. No private executive breathes who can turn out a deficit year after year without going out on his ear. But a senator may sponsor a bill that costs the government half a billion dollars a year and be regarded as a great statesman because he hasn't lost us a whole billion."

That is the inescapable corollary of politics in business. Case after case in the records where waste, inefficiency, bureaucracy, red-tape have cost the taxpayers many millions. When government steps in, personal responsibility steps out. The seemingly bottomless purse of the treasury is always there to make up the deficits.

Able executives have occasionally been appointed as managers of government business enterprises—men who, in private business, would be successful and would produce profits and not losses. But under political domination their hands are tied. Constant pressure is brought against them to do this or do that, for purely political reasons. And if the manager complains too loudly when that happens, he is liable to suddenly find himself without a job.

Some day there will be a complete report made on what government-in-business has cost the American taxpayer—and he had better be sitting down when he looks at the total, inasmuch as it is more dangerous to faint standing up.

LAKE VILLA GRADUATES RECEIVE LEGION AWARDS

Many Patrons Attend the Picnic at the Close of School

Last week, in our account of the eighth grade graduation, no mention was made of the two awards given by the American Legion to the boy and girl who, in the opinion of the Legion, were found to be most courteous, helpful and worthy of awards, and Harriet Meyer and Bernard Schneider were the ones selected. Ben Haddad, commander of the Legion, made the presentation. Bojan Hamlin and Roger Thill won these awards last year.

School closed here last Thursday with a picnic which was attended by a number of mothers and friends, and which was an enjoyable affair in spite of the cool weather. Mr. and Mrs. Frye expect to remain here for the greater part of the summer. Miss Masterson has gone to her home at Vandalla and Miss McNeely to her home in central Illinois. We are sorry that she is not to return this fall, but it was deemed best to discontinue one room and divide the grades. Miss Falch will spend her summer at home.

Mrs. Florence Pinch and her two children, also her niece, Clara Harmon, left early this week for their new home in Bristol, Rhode Island. Mrs. Pinch's brother, Mr. Abernathy, came out from Pennsylvania to accompany her as far as Bryn Mawr, her mother's home, where she will visit for a while before going on to her home, and Mr. Pinch will join her there. We wish them success in their new home, and they will be greatly missed here.

The Lake Villa Fire Department was well represented at the Firemen's convention at Libertyville on Monday.

Fred Funk, who has been at his home here for several weeks, has secured employment in Chicago.

Mrs. Beatrice Sherwood visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmington, at Round Lake one day recently.

County park, Tuesday. Eight pupils in Miss Jedele's room received diplomas at the Lake County exercises at Antioch Saturday evening. Monday evening Miss Jedele had appropriate exercises at her school and school exhibit of work in both rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rasch were surprised at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Letting, at Wilmet Tuesday evening, the occasion being their fortieth wedding anniversary. A large group of relatives and friends were in attendance. Cards were played and a delicious lunch served. John Stettin was in Chicago on Monday.

The Community band played at the Memorial Day exercises at the Silver Lake ball park Sunday afternoon.

Don Tyler of the Activities Airport, flew to Kansas on Wednesday. On the return trip he stopped in Quincy to visit his sister, Cora Tyler, a graduate nurse of St. Mary's hospital in the 1934 class at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dohy.

Grace Carey returned from the Grant hospital, Chicago, the first of week.

Firestone

Fires have been on the winning cars in the gruelling Indianapolis 500-Mile Race

FOR 15 CONSECUTIVE YEARS

EVERY winner in the 500-Mile Indianapolis Race—the most gruelling tire test in the world—drove to victory on Firestone High Speed Tires.

Race drivers know that heat generated by friction inside the cotton cords is the greatest enemy of tire life. These men will not risk their lives on any but Firestone Tires, because they know the high stretch cords in every Firestone Tire are protected by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping.

Gum-Dipping soaks the high stretch cords in liquid rubber and saturates and coats the millions of fibers inside the cords, counteracting destructive friction and heat. It provides greater adhesion between the plies of the tire, and between the Gum-Dipped cord body and the tread.

Firestone chemists and engineers kept pace with new car developments by building stronger, safer tires to meet the exacting demands. Drive in today and equip your car with new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934, with deeper, thicker, flatter, and wider non-skid tread, more and tougher rubber, more traction, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

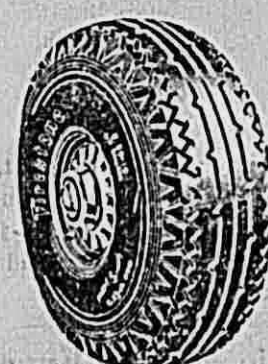

Remember, in Firestone High Speed Tires there is Greater Strength—Greater Safety—and Greater Blowout Protection than in any tire made.

THE ADHESION TEST

Note how the rubber in a Firestone Tire clings to the high stretch Gum-Dipped cords. This greater adhesion and strength is made possible by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping.

Note how the rubber in an ordinary tire pulls away from the cords that have not been soaked and insulated with rubber. This causes friction and heat within the cords, resulting in

American Colleges to Meet
In Long Crew Race in June

Coach Ulbricksen of Washington Eight, a Strong Contender in 4-mile Row, Skilled in Conditioning Men.

SPRING prophets of rowing are keeping close watch on the University of Washington crew this year. Last year all three Washington eights defeated strong California crews, and the Varsity won the National Intercollegiate Championship at Los Angeles into the bargain. All of which points to a strong contender at the re-stated Poughkeepsie, N. Y., rowing classic of America's leading colleges in June.

In the last five years Washington crews have defeated their favorite opponents, the California Golden Bears, in three out of five races, and won at Madison, Wisconsin, both times entered.

Washington purple and gold first appeared on the Hudson River in 1923 and took the race. The following year another Washington crew placed first, and another in 1926. Second places came to them in 1925, 1927, and 1929; third places in 1928 and 1931; and sixth in 1930.

A record like this points to pretty careful grooming, as well as to native strength. Coach Ulbricksen well knows that physical condition means almost everything in the gruelling test of a race. Washington crews have one advantage over many eastern eights in that Lake Washington, which adjoins the campus of the University, never freezes in the mild winters of the Pacific Northwest state, and boatmen can practice outdoors the year round.

In addition, Al Ulbricksen is skilled in the fine points of conditioning. For several years, the diet of his oarsmen has included fresh yeast, which he also arranges to have delivered to them on their transcontinental trip and during the stay on the Hudson.

Eastern crews are in full swing of spring practice also, and from the present outlook the thirty-four year old classic will probably present a strong lineup in spite of last year's interruption.

Lovely Fifi Loves to Cook

Fascinating Fifi D'Orsay prepares a plump fowl, and samples its gravy before lifting the bird to the fruit-garnished platter resting so invitingly atop the gas range in her kitchen, where she spends much of her leisure time experimenting with exciting new food combinations.

By Mabel Love

"I MAY seem radical in my view," says lovely Fifi D'Orsay, famous screen star, featured recently in "Going Hollywood," "but I see no reason why an actress should suppress her domesticity just because her job is that of entertaining the public."

"I have always taken a great deal of interest in cookery, especially the dishes which I enjoyed in my childhood days spent in Canada, and I still have many of the old family recipes which have been handed down from one generation to another."

"The French Canadians make much of food preparation, many hours being spent in making the food attractive not only to the palate, but the eye as well; for the French have a genuine respect for cookery as an art."

A fruit garnish with the roast is one of Fifi's suggestions, for she believes that many fruit combinations can be used to increase both the eye and appetite appeal of the main dish. Below are two of Fifi's recipes.

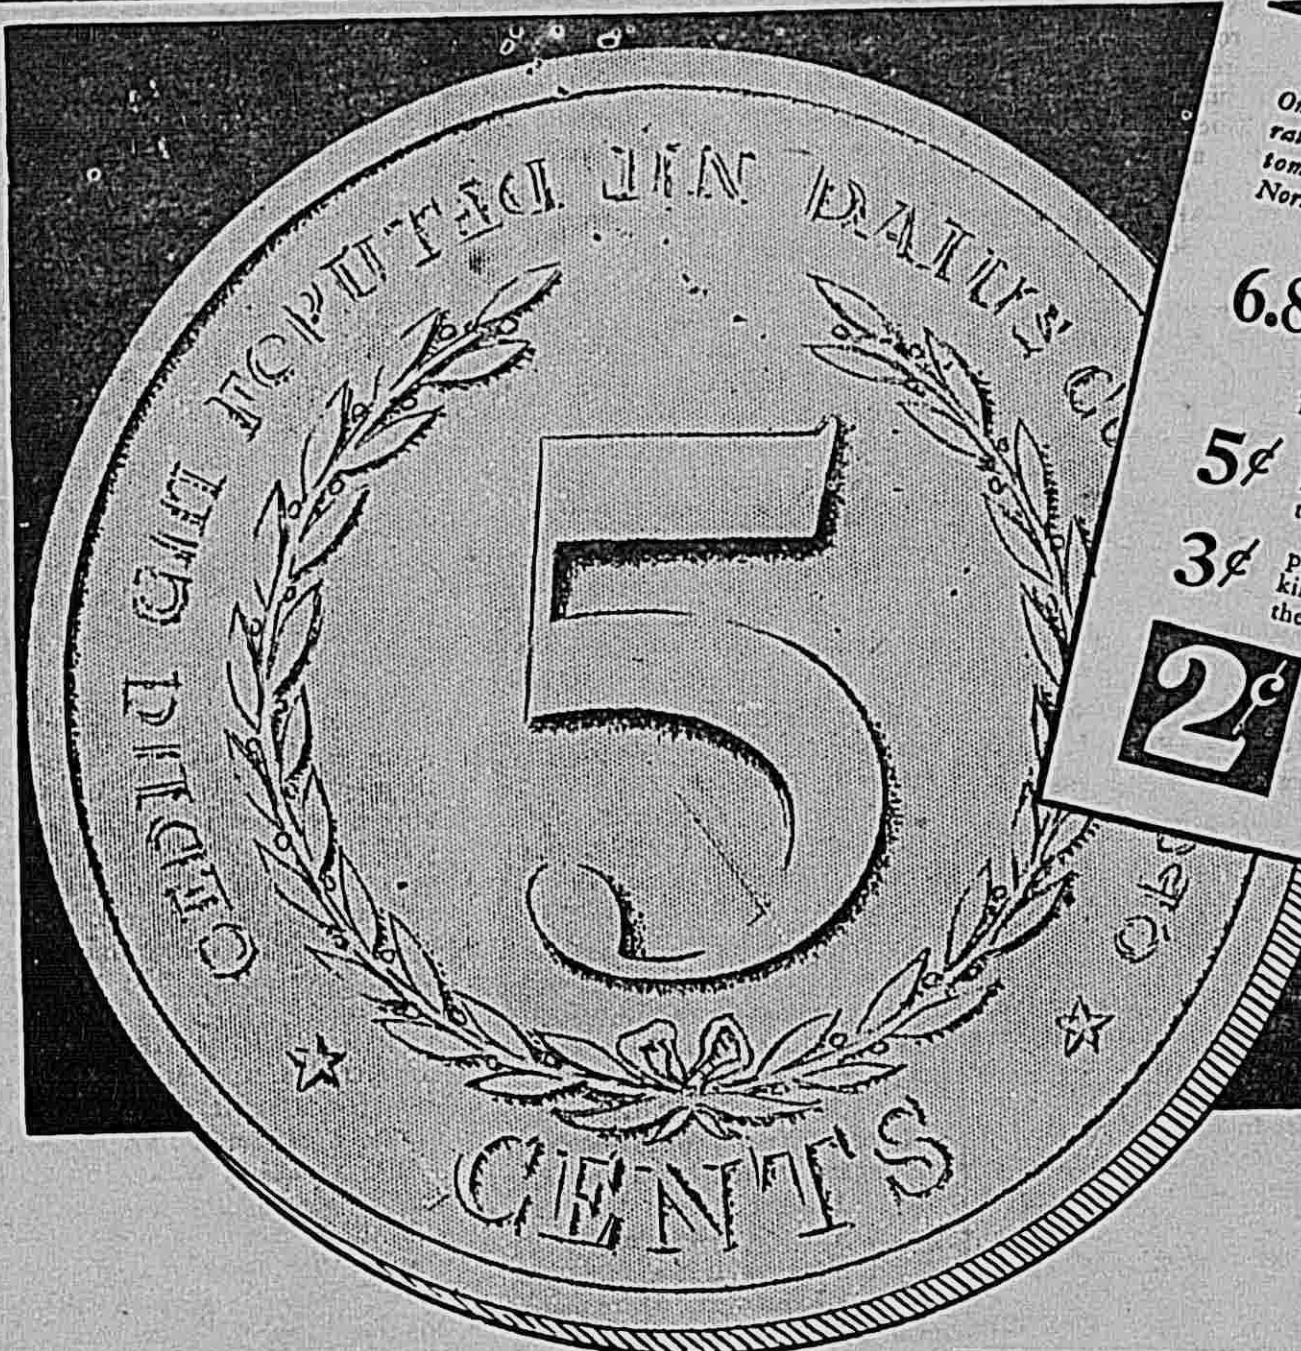

Orange Sauce
(For chicken or duck)
6 slices of orange, ¼ cup sugar
unpeeled 2 tablespoons sherry
Juice of two ½ cup butter
oranges ¼ teaspoon salt
Grated rind of 1 1 cup meat gravy orange

Add orange juice, sherry flavoring, sugar and salt to gravy and heat. Let orange slices simmer in sauce for five minutes. Arrange slices around roast and garnish with cream.

Another favorite with Miss D'Orsay, which she serves with roast beef, chicken or sliced ham, consists of a prune and pineapple garnish.

Pineapple and Stuffed Prune Garnish
6 slices canned pineapple, ¼ cup sugar
apple 3 tablespoons butter
6 large stewed prunes or meat fat
5 blanched almonds ½ cup pineapple juice

Melt butter, add sugar and saute pineapple slices until delicately brown. Add liquid and simmer until liquid is absorbed. Stuff prunes with almonds, and place one on each slice of pineapple. Arrange around roast or baked sliced beef.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 20.

The Golden Text was, "As we have borne the image of the earth, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly" (1 Corinthians 15:49).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is. For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat cometh, but her leaf shall be green; and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit" (Jeremiah 17:7, 8).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "In divine Science, God and the real man are inseparable as divine Principle and idea. . . . Mortals will disappear, and Immortals, or the children of God, will appear as the only and eternal verities of man" (p. 476).

American Consul Disputes Origin of Cocktail

BECAUSE Mrs. Betsy Flanagan, brave little widow of a revolutionary soldier, once helped "her" man to celebrate a victory, we must give her credit for the origin of the "cocktail." Because she stole some roosters from a neighboring Britisher and used their bright tail feathers to decorate some liquor bottles, she deserves our blessing. The mixtures were her own concoction and she stirred them vigorously with the tail feather of a handsome cock—and so it happened, that in the heat of the merrymaking, the soldiers dubbed the drinks "cocktails." It was this very Betsy Flanagan who inspired the mixture which bears her name. The Betsy

The American Betsy Flanagan

Flanagan cocktail is made with 1/2 Jamaica Rum, 1/4 Italian Vermouth and 1/2 teaspoonful of sugar. At least, this is the version Mr. Horace V. Myers, Head of the House of Myers, which brings us that famous Jamaica rum, recently told a group of friends interested in the source of the popular American bracer. This was repeated in a Jamaica, British West Indies, newspaper and caused Mr. William Corcoran, United States Consul in Jamaica, B. W. I., to recall his own newspaper experiences of twenty years back in Washington. Although Mr. Corcoran describes himself as an old friend of Mr. Myers, he did not hesitate to speak up and defend his own and amiable story. He felt that history demanded at least that much. In fact, in an interview with a reporter of the Daily

Gleaner, a well-known Jamaica paper, he quoted as his authorities the late United States Senator Olla James, and Colonel Henry "Marse" Watterson, one time editor of the Louisville Courier Journal. According to the American Consul, Colonel Watterson swore by this narrative: During the latter part of the eighteenth century in Kentucky, "the land of beautiful women, fast horses, and good liquor," cockfighting was the favorite sport of the gentry. And in their clubs and homes in the evening, before open fires, these landowners discussed the cockfights of the day. With each story came a round of drinks and with each drink, the stories improved in color and unusualness. One night, an especially "well-coated" fellow reached for some bottles, and without a thought of their contents, proceeded to pour them into one glass. Someone cried: "more cocktails!" and the drinking continued. Eventually the spelling of the word came to be "cocktails"—presumably a concoction composed of Jamaica rum and a vermouth, since rum was already a popular drink in the South. George Washington, Alexander Hamilton, and John Paul Jones had all visited the island and knew of the potency and merit of rum.

Today a delicious drink of this same general formula is named Betsy Flanagan cocktail. It consists of one-half Italian Vermouth, one-half Myer's Jamaica Rum, and one-half a teaspoonful of sugar, per the words of Consul Corcoran's interview with the Daily Gleaner reporter, Mr. Horace V. Myers, M. D. E., who is now a guest at the Roosevelt Hotel, New York City, sent this cable on April 9th:

"I thank my amiable friend Mr. Corcoran heartily but consider that the narrative is preferable to the Kentucky Colonel's story and the imperfect orthography and etymology."

"Does Consul Corcoran know the definition of a Kentucky breakfast given by a Kentucky Senator visiting Jamaica?"

"The 'Kentucky breakfast' narrative definitely puts Mr. Myers in the lead in this good natured controversy. The definition, incidentally, is: 'A steak, a bottle of whiskey, and a dog.' 'Why a dog?' 'To eat the steak, of course,' was the Senator's answer."

LOANS REFINANCE FARMERS' DEBTS IN KENOSHA COUNTY

Federal Agencies Place
Nearly Quarter Million Dollars in County

A total of $246,700 of Federal land bank and Land Bank Commissioner's farm mortgage loans was made in Kenosha county, Wisconsin, from June 1, 1933, to May 1, 1934, according to the Farm Credit Administration.

Of this total, farmers in Kenosha County used approximately $199,199, or 80.7 per cent to refinance their indebtedness. By refinancing, farmers obtained new mortgage loans which they used to repay their old debts. They generally reduced their annual interest charges in doing so. In a number of cases, scale-downs of indebtedness occurred in connection with the new loans. These and other advantages benefited farmers primarily. Secondly, creditors benefited from the receipt of cash or bonds in exchange for obligations they held.

Of the loan money used by farmers in Kenosha County for refinancing their debts, about $74,500, it was estimated, repaid their debts to banks; $2,700, their taxes, $500, their debts to merchants; $121,400, their debts to "others", or creditors not separately classified, including private mortgage lenders, mortgage loan companies, retired farmers and many others to whom farmers were in debt.

A total of about $47,600 of loans in the county was used for purposes other than the refinancing of borrowers' debts. Of this sum, $36,000 was used for the purchase of land and equipment, the construction or improvement of buildings, and for general agricultural uses, including the provision of capital, while $11,600, the balance, was used for the purchase of stock in national farm loan associations, for loan fees, etc.

Throughout the United States approximately $675,000,000 of land bank and Commissioner's loans were made from June 1, 1933, to May 1, 1934. Most of these loans were made to refinance debts resulting from the long period of low farm income.

Generally farmers pay considerably less interest each year on the new than on the old loans. Land bank loans made through national farm loan associations carry an interest rate of 5 per cent, but there is a reduction to 4 1/2 per cent until July, 1935. Loans made direct by banks carry a rate of 5 1/2 per cent, but there is a reduction to 5 per cent until 1935. The rate on Commissioner's loans is 5 per cent. Against these rates farmers in most cases had been paying from 5 per cent to 8 per cent, but on numerous loans they had been paying 9 per cent, 10 per cent, and even above 10 per cent.

Until March 26 the land bank and Commissioner's loans were made in cash. Commencing on that date they were made mainly in the government-guaranteed bonds of the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation. These bonds are exempt from all Federal, state, municipal and local taxation, except surtaxes, estate, inheritance and gift taxes. They are guaranteed fully as to principal and interest by the United States government. In a relatively short period after they were issued, they sold above par and had met a favorable reception from farmers and their creditors all over the United States. With the use of these bonds, the refinancing program is going forward rapidly.

Wallenwein to Run for Mayor in Waukegan

Henry F. Wallenwein, one of Waukegan's marrying justices, who is well known here through his activities in connection with the boxing shows held in the Antioch Palace some years ago, has announced that he will be a candidate for mayor of the county seat city in the primaries next spring.

It was Wallenwein, who as matchmaker for the boxing shows at the Palace, brought Barney Ross to the local arena many times, and it was in the local ring that Ross fought his last amateur battle. Soon after turning professional Barney climbed to the top of the heap of lightweight, then annexed the junior welterweight crown, and Monday night in New York he won the welterweight championship of the world by defeating Jimmy McLarnin in 15 rounds.

Wallenwein must experience considerable satisfaction in the success of his protegee.

PLANS DAIRY TOUR TO ILL. UNIVERSITY

Farm Bureau and Dairymen to Have an Outing
June 14

Members of the Lake County Farm Bureau and Dairy Herd Improvement Associations and other dairymen of this county will make a special tour to the University of Illinois on June 14, 1934, according to plans announced by Farm Adviser H. C. Gikerson. Officials of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association and Farm Bureau are sponsoring the trip to which both members and non-members are invited. Those interested in joining the tour are asked to get in touch with Farm Adviser H. C. Gikerson or Bob Howard and Kenneth Hoffman, testers of the Lake County Dairy Herd Improvement Association.

The event will give local dairymen an excellent opportunity to get firsthand information on the latest breeding, feeding and management methods, as well as an enjoyable one-day outing for their families.

Preliminary plans call for all members of the dairy families to participate in the tour, leaving the farm bureau office in Grayslake, Illinois at 5:00 A. M., Daylight Saving Time, so as to arrive at the University by 10 o'clock.

At the U. I. College of Agriculture, the program includes a demonstration in the newer methods of sire selection and dairy cattle breeding as practiced in the university herds. There will also be a judging contest consisting of four rings of four cows each representing the Jersey, Guernsey, Holstein and Brown Swiss breeds. Various solutions of the pasture problem, which is now serious in many sections will be discussed by specialists at the college of agriculture and participating dairymen will have a chance to ask questions relative to their particular problems.

Women members of the tour will have a program of their own with time being allowed for a general inspection of the campus.

It has been suggested that those who desire may bring their own basket lunches, as places for holding a picnic dinner will be provided on the campus. Others may secure their noon meal in nearby restaurants, if preferred. Programs at the University will be completed the latter part of the afternoon in time for all members to return to their homes that evening.

The university dairy herds contain some of the most outstanding cow families to be found in the country, developed through modern methods of in- and line-breeding. The results of this work will be on exhibit when Lake county dairymen visit the University.

Sorenson Tavern Drops Close Game to Lake Villa

Sorenson Tavern team lost a close game to Lake Villa Tuesday evening, when a ninth inning rally by the Taverners fell short. The locals lacked their full lineup strength, but put up a sterling brand of ball in spite of that fact and barely missed winning.

A return game with Lake Villa will be played here next Monday evening on the grade school grounds at seven o'clock.

Counting a Million
The time it would take to count a million coins would depend upon the person. In the counting room at the Treasury department the silver is usually weighed rather than counted. An estimate has been made, however, that counting at the rate of 1 a second and 2 hours a day, it would take a person about 35 days to count one million coins.

FARMERS MAY MAKE NEW MILK BASE

Producers Must Declare
Themselves Before
June 1

Those members of the Pure Milk Association whose farm operations make it desirable to adjust their base milk production, will be given another opportunity, to establish a new base during a base-building period covering three months, to become effective June 1, 1934, and continuing through July and August, 1934, if they so elect. This ruling was passed by the Board of Directors of the Association meeting in special session Thursday, May 24.

This action comes in answer to the needs of certain dairy farmers. It is estimated that about 25 per cent of the members will take advantage of this base-building opportunity that is being offered them. On the other hand, there are many members who wish to continue with their present base, on account of feed conditions. Each member wishing to participate must declare himself before June 1.

The plan for those who elect to make this new base is to ship their total production throughout the three months and the daily average of such production will be added to their present 100 per cent base and then divided by two. The result of this production will be their new 100 per cent base. However, the plan works both ways. If a farmer elects to establish a new base but fails during the three month period to make a daily average above his established base on record, he will lose some of what he already has.

Example 1. Present 100%
daily base is 200 lbs.
3 mos. ave. daily pro..... 400 lbs.

divided by 2 equals the
new base of 300 lbs.

Example 2. Present 100%
daily base is 600 lbs.
3 mos. ave. daily production 500 lbs.

divided by 2 equals the
new base of 550 lbs.

Members who are considering this base-building plan, are cautioned to carefully estimate their possibilities before registering for the base-building period, to prevent possible loss of their present base. It is pointed out that all existing base rules will apply.

The Central Office of the Pure Milk Association will supply full details direct to the membership within the next few days, so that plans may get under way at once.

attributed the high grade equipment and training of the firemen of Lake County to the friendly competition that has existed between the various departments for many years.

State Fire Marshal Speaks
State Fire Marshal Sherman V. Coultas of Illinois, principal speaker at the banquet, urged firemen to investigate all the circumstances which might indicate incendiary origin. This, he said would do much to discourage fires of this type. John Gamber of Waukegan, former state fire marshal, was also a speaker at the banquet.

Antioch's Equipment Best
In the parade Antioch was awarded first prize for best conditioned equipment, with Lake Forest, Grange and Grayslake also winning awards in the order named. Drum and bugle corps from many parts of the county participated in the parade. Allen McMillan, chief of the Grayslake fire department for 26 years and a member of the force for 35 years, was the oldest fireman present, and Edgar Simonsen, 22, of Antioch, the youngest.

Antioch Wins Barrel Fight
The Antioch fire department won the water barrel fight, while Libertyville won first in the tug of war. In the final scoring, after completion of competition Monday evening, Lake Villa was first, Antioch second and Libertyville third.
Miss Bessie Miller was crowned Queen of Lake County at the convention, having won the popularity contest sponsored by the firemen. Mayor A. E. Suter of Libertyville welcomed the 450 visiting firemen and their friends to the city.

DR. JENSEN LOSES ACCIDENT SUIT

A Lake county circuit court jury deliberated 5 hours Tuesday before returning a not guilty verdict in the $25,000 personal injury suit brought by Dr. G. W. Jensen, widely known veterinarian of Antioch, against Earl L. McCarthy, Chicago business man, for personal injuries received a year ago in an automobile accident.

Testimony revealed that McCarthy was travelling more than sixty miles an hour at the time of the accident, but defense attorneys brought out that the collision took place at a road intersection marked with danger signs.

The accident occurred May 18, 1933, at the intersection of state aid roads 12 and 7. Dr. Jensen was so severely injured that he was not expected to recover.

Tax Increases Fuel Cost Four Times As Much As Code Prices, Federal Trade Report Reveals

Charts show amount of gasoline dollar absorbed by taxes; average yearly retail prices of gasoline in 50 cities; and average yearly state and federal gasoline taxes.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — State and federal taxes have increased the cost of gasoline to the consumer more than four times as much as have price advances under the NRA, the Federal Trade Commission has informed the United States Senate.

Replying to a Senate inquiry as to what increased gasoline prices mean to consumers in the way of additional costs, the Commission reported that while prices advanced 10 cents per gallon under the Oil Code between July 1, 1933 and January 31, 1934, subsequent price declines made the average net increase only about 10 cents per gallon.

The increase in cost to consumers was placed at $160,000,000 annually as compared with state and federal taxes averaging 5.14c per gallon and costing $700,000,000 annually.

The Commission explained that the Consumers' Advisory Board had estimated the increased cost to consumers due to price advances at $614,000,000.

The report disclosed that while the average estimated increase in cost to consumers in all states was only 1.04c per gallon between July 1, 1933 and January 31, 1934, the average state and federal tax paid by the consumer increased from zero at the beginning of 1919 to more than 5c per gallon on February 1, 1934.

Quoting gasoline prices through the years, the Commission presented data from 50 representative cities indicating that while the average cost of gasoline to the consumer declined 27 per cent between July 1, 1926 and July 1, 1933, taxes increased about 134 per cent.

Etiquette Rules Allow Gestures Of Naturalness

Affected Mannerisms and Speech Irritating and Not in Good Taste

Are gestures and mannerisms of speech part of an attractive personality? And the answer is "yes" or "no." Meaning that some are and some are not, and that there is much to be said on both sides.

Certainly there is no harm, or evidence of poor taste, in a characteristic tilt or nod of the head, or in a knowing little movement of the hand. The rules of etiquette do not mean to smother individuality. Enjoyable little mannerisms such as these are becoming and form a part of one's personality. To conceal them would be to assume a mask. They do not make one any the less interesting, and may even add charm and expression if they are simple and natural, and not affected and insincere. Gestures so typical of one's individuality need not be muffled.

Affected Gestures Definitely "Out"
By this sales talk I don't mean to infer that you should start an expedition to discover and promptly cultivate a score more of these "personality" mannerisms. That, I hope you realize, would be disastrous, nothing more than a conspicuous affectation. Such gestures are among the first on the list to which the above "No" refers.

It is when one becomes conspicuous and objectionable to other people with annoying gesticulations that it is time to call a halt and begin making corrections. For instance, try not to be monotonous in your talk. Do not draw your words or talk so indistinctly that it is difficult to be understood. Don't chatter meaningless words and race breathlessly through whole sentences, leaving your listeners gasping. Peppering your speech with "you know" or "believe me" or "get the point?" is extremely irritating to your listener, or interrupting your companion's story with such rudeness as "you don't say" or "tell me more." Anything so bombastic as pounding on the table for an audience or to emphasize a point in an argument is more than any one need endure and the disconcerting practice of keeping a finger carefully pointed at the person to whom you are talking is a supreme blow.

The Morning Inspection

Most schools have adopted the morning health inspection in some form. And when carefully conducted by a teacher who recognizes the responsibility that is his, it is in my opinion the first line of defense against communicable disease.

Then, at the opening of school before many contacts occur, is the time to find and sift out the pupils showing some departure from normal health. The deviation may be slight, but at the same time, it may be the start of something really serious. It is truly an instance of "a stitch in time."

The inspection should be brief and simple but thorough. No hesitancy or alarm should be shown by the teacher. No comments should be made lest fear arise. When excluding a pupil, smile and give orders quietly. The teacher should never diagnose. His job is to observe, and knowing the usual appearance of his pupils, he should be alert to every change.

Dr. Ireland will tell how to care for children's teeth in his next article.

Sowing Soybeans and Cowpeas
May Help Meet Feed Need

Threatened with a serious feed shortage as a result of the dry weather and the chinch bug menace, Illinois livestock farmers still have a chance to meet the situation by planting additional land to soybeans or cowpeas for hay, according to the animal husbandry department, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Dry weather since the early part of April has reduced the growth of pastures, meadows and small grains. At the same time the abnormally dry season has been particularly favorable for the reproduction of hordes of chinch bugs, the most destructive and widespread insect now present in the state. Unless heavy rains are general in a short time, these two factors may create a serious shortage of livestock feed, it was predicted.

Since chinch bugs do not feed on legumes, it is being suggested that Illinois farmers take immediate steps to increase their soybean and cowpea acreage for hay production. It may be advisable to plant some of the corn ground to these crops.

Both soybeans and cowpeas are excellent roughages for meat, dairy and work stock. When these hays are fed along with lower grade non-leguminous roughages, they greatly improve the productivity of the ration. Soybeans may be planted in the central and northern counties of the state and cowpeas in southern Illinois.

Soybeans are usually seeded soon after corn planting in a thoroughly prepared seedbed which should contain sufficient moisture to sprout the beans. Inoculation is, of course, recommended. When seeded solid with a grain drill, 6 to 7 pecks of beans will be required to the acre, or if planted in rows 28 to 32 inches apart, 35 to 45 pounds will suffice in the case of medium-sized seed.

Sudan grass has also given satisfactory results as a hot weather pasture and hay crop in Illinois. However, since sudan grass is one of the favorite foods of chinch bugs, it will be advisable to seed either soybeans or cowpeas as a companion crop to sudan grass this year. Using 1½ bushels of beans or peas and 15 pounds of sudan grass to the acre gives a practical seeding.

Cocoanut Fudge

2½ pounds brown sugar
½ pint rich milk or cream
1 pound shredded coconut
1 teaspoon lemon or vanilla extract
Cook all but flavoring to firm ball. Take from fire and beat until thick and light colored, adding the flavoring. Turn into buttered pan and mark in squares.

Banana, Nut and Marshmallow Salad
Use firm, short bananas. The thick red ones are the best for the purpose. Peel and scrape off the pithy outer surface, using a silver-plated knife. Brush all over with the slightly beaten white of egg after cutting each banana in half lengthwise, then sprinkle with rolled roasted peanuts. Lay on heart leaves of lettuce, or endive if it can be obtained. Garnish with halved marshmallows and walnut halves or maraschino cherries, and serve with mayonnaise with which ½ cup whipped cream has been mixed.

Fairy Food Cake

4 eggs
7 tablespoons water
1½ cups granulated sugar
1½ cups flour
¾ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon flavoring extract.
Beat the egg yolks and water for five minutes with a rotary egg beater. Add the sugar and continue beating for five minutes longer, then put in the flour and salt sifted together and beat five minutes more with a wooden spoon. Add the flavoring, fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites, and bake in an ungreased angel food pan in a moderate oven about one hour.

Metals in Powdered Form

One development of the metallurgical industry is the manufacture of several metals in pulverized form in which shape they are applied to other metal surfaces by the spraying method. Nickel, chromium, silver, platinum and other metals have been very successfully made use of in this shape but the greatest demand is for copper. There has been created a demand for 3,000,000 pounds of powdered copper annually.

Marble Monuments Mark Graves In Cemetery for Cats and Dogs

One of the many memorials in an unusual burial ground. This is a typical scene on Memorial Day.

A CEMETERY for dogs and cats and other pets with real marble monuments is situated just outside Philadelphia. Unlike many animal burial grounds, this one is maintained as a modern cemetery and the urns of flowers on the graves attest the frequent visits of those whose pets are buried there.

A part of the Francisville Home for Smaller Animals, it was founded 27 years ago by the late Mrs. George McClellan in memory of Francis, a stray dog. Since then some 3,000 pets, most of them dogs, but including cats, monkeys, canaries, parrots, a horse and even a lion, have been buried there.

On the graves of dogs and cats are marble monuments, some of them more pretentious than those erected in memory of human beings. And the inscriptions on them bespeak the strong bonds of affection that bound dumb animal to his master or mistress.

"In the hope of a blessed immortality, Prince, dearly beloved and faithful friend," reads one inscription.

"Our Darling Snookie, Fell Asleep October 20, 1927, aged 14 years, 3 months—Till we meet again," reads another.

Memorials on the graves of Vesle and Jack, two dog mascots buried with military honors, record that they "served their country in the World War," while another monument says the dog that lies beneath it sold Liberty Bonds.

Pure Milk Asks A. A. A. To Increase Price To Producers

In an effort to secure a better price for milk, a committee of three men is leaving Chicago, Sunday, May 27, for Washington, D. C., to confer with AAA officials on behalf of the Pure Milk Association membership. The committee, made up of Manager Don Geyer, Director John Case, and Director Leo Mullooly, will ask for an immediate advance in the price paid the milk producers, effective June 1. The serious feed shortage, accompanied by high prices, will be cited as the most important reason for making a raise in price imperative at this time.

Six Months' Time on Feed Bills

On Friday noon, May 25, Manager Don Geyer broadcast an announcement over radio station WLS, regarding the feed situation and outlined the efforts being made by Association officials to make available sufficient feed supplies to carry the farmers through this emergency.

Firm information at hand it appears hay may be secured in car lots at local points for about $20.00 a ton. Mr. Geyer asked that members who wish to purchase such hay get in touch with their local officers at once, who in turn will call the Central Office. "As to financing," Mr. Geyer added, "it will be arranged that members may have a six month period to pay for their purchases by giving an order on the dairy to which they ship, or they may pay cash at the time of delivery."

A CALENDAR OF CHICK MANAGEMENT

First Seven Days Are the Most Important.

What to do with the young flock day by day aside from feeding and watering is the subject of a calendar of chick management prepared by the Educational Division of Purina Mills. Combined with the use of properly blended rations, the following will be of greatest help toward keeping chicks alive and healthy and making them grow rapidly.

These steps in management as outlined by the staff experts cover the most critical period—the first seven days.

Two weeks before chicks come—Scrub brooder house thoroughly with soap and water; disinfect floor and sidewalks with Cresol; move to new or clean ground.

Three days before chicks come—Start brooder stores to see that they are working properly; regulate thermostats.

First three days—Leave chicks in boxes in a warm darkened room for a short time until thoroughly quieted down.

Use high-grade straw or peat litter one inch deep; cover with pink building paper or burlap; sack to keep chicks from picking up litter.

Keep brooder temperature at 90 to 95 degrees with thermometer bulb 3 inches above floor just outside edge of hove; keep out drafts, but supply fresh air.

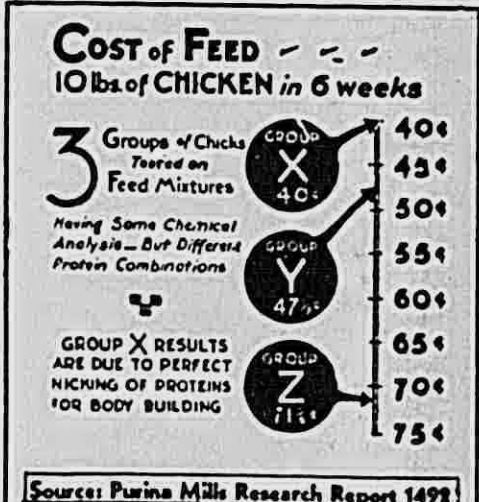

Make guard to hold chicks near the heat. Can use one inch mesh wire one foot high encircling the brooder about 15 inches from the edge of the brooder. Cover wire mesh with muslin or drape burlap sacks to shut off floor drafts.

Provide one inch of feeding space for each chick, or one hop-

COSTS LESS NOW TO GROW CHICKS

The saving that is possible in feeding chicks during the first six weeks of their life is most clearly shown by recent tabulations. Where formerly ingredients were mixed together to form a certain per cent of protein, modern research proves that such mixing may prove costly to the owner.

From a series of records involving the weighing of thousands of chicks from one day out of the shell to six weeks of age, accurate computation is now available on what to expect in the way of returns from every dollar expended in feed. Research files of Purina Mills Experiment Farm yield the interesting chart here reproduced. Three groups of chicks tested on three separate mashings, all having the same values according to old methods of analysis, but differing in the manner in which the ingredients were proportioned, show a wide range of costs. Group X, with the best scientific proportioning, is within a few cents of being worth double the old style ration represented by Group Z. Group Y was mixed according to some of the better practices of feeders. Group X was mixed according to the exclusive data developed by the Research Division of Purina Mills, the result of years of analytical, biological and practical farm tests.

The difference between paying a feed cost of forty cents for ten pounds of chick growth and paying seventy-one cents is obviously so great that no poultry raiser can afford not to take warning. He should examine carefully his methods and his cost sheets. The feed consumed as against the weight developed by the chicks in a given period of time will soon tell him where his profits have gone.

Qualification

Fresh Pasteurized Milk— A Permanent Pick-Up

Juliette Ware and George Blackwood, Warner Bros. featured players, drink a toast out of milk bottles in the studio's restaurant.

ARE you nervous, tired, feel pretty low at three o'clock in the afternoon, been increasing your quota of alcoholic beverages lately? Better increase your quota of fresh milk too then, because you're going to need a nerve tonic of some sort, and while you're about it you might as well select one that's pleasant to use.

Of course fresh milk is well known as a good "pick-up" after overindulgence. But if you use it regularly in abundance, you'll discover that it's also a "permanent pick-up," helping to counteract the bad effects of post-prohibition evenings, because good old-fashioned milk is a great builder-up of the healthy body that can "take it" and still look young and beautiful on the morning after.

The function of food in preserving beauty is one that has long been overwhelmed and forgotten in the mass of beauty preparations for use on the outside which are constantly being presented to the modern woman.

Taverns Must Pay Licenses By July 5

Supervisor William A. Rosling of Antioch, is quoted as stating that revenue from taverns in Lake county will reach $20,000. Rosling is chairman of the license committee. First estimates placed the fees from taverns at $12,000, but already $10,000 has been collected, with only half of the licenses paid.

Decoration Day Blaze Menaces Channel Lake Home & Dance Pavilion

Quick response on the part of Antioch firemen saved the home of Homer Winch at Channel Lake at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday when fire originating from a gasoline stove threatened to destroy the cottage.

Some concern was felt that the fire might spread to the dance pavilion next door north of Winch's home, but quick work by the firemen checked the flames.
